Radio Shack Recording Messages

Albany area residents are reminded that The Radio Shack on San Pablo Ave., is taping messages to servicemen free of charge and donating the cost of the postage to mail them before Christmas.

Edward D. Thompson, manager, made the offer to Elmer Coble, president of Albany Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the "Yule Pool."

There are two recording booths at the business place. Call 527-4340 to make an appointment.

Drawn-Out Quest For City Clerk

Albany City Council was to have held a personnel session after the regular meeting last night to discuss the City Clerk's post.

They have been discussing that subject off and on since early spring and Albany is still without a permanent City Clerk.

Myrtle J. McLean, who had always been elected to the post, retired in April. Previously, Council engaged the San Francisco firm of Griffenhagen-Kroeger to accept and screen applicants for the job. The deadline to make application was March 8 of this year.

Subsequently, 16 applicants were screened and eight were recommended for interview by Council.

Mrs. McLean, after her retirement, served for a time as the first Council-appointed clerk. Then longtime city employee, Betty C. Rhodes, was appointed acting clerk.

On May 13, John L. Klavohn of 824 San Carlos and Mrs. Rhodes, neither of whom had applied through Griffenhagen-Kroeger, asked Council to consider them for the City Clerk post.

On Oct. 2, the Times announced a special Council session that night to select a City Clerk. We attended the meeting, were taken to task for stating they were "selecting" when the intent was "to discuss," and waited with the scattering of people in Council chambers for a quorum to appear.

Councilmen Lewis Howell and George Hein did not attend. Councilman Joe Carlevaro arrived very late, finally making a quorum with Mayor Richard Clark and Vice Mayor H. F. Call. Their only action was to reappoint Mrs. Rhodes as acting clerk. That reappointment expires Dec. 2.

Last week Councilman Call placed the name of Klavohn "in nomination" for the clerk's job. It was held over for a personnel session which was held last night.

Chestmobile Stationed In Albany Through Dec. 5

The Chestmobile testing unit of the Tuberculosis and Health Association of Alameda County will be in Albany, on Solano Avenue at Nielson and Curtis, for two weeks, starting Nov. 25 through Dec. 5. The hours will be Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. On Wednesday, the hours will be 2 p.m. until 7:30 p.m.

According to Mrs. Harold Olson, 727 San Pablo Ave., Albany chairman for the Christmas Seal campaign, free tuberculin skin tests will be offered to those up to age 40; breathing tests to those 40 and over; and chest X-rays to those over 40 and to those with positive reactions to skin tests.

In explaining the tests, Mrs. Olson said, "Skin tests measure the amount of tuberculosis infection in the population, and while a person having a positive reaction is not necessarily tubercular, it does mean he has been exposed to infection and should be watched. Breathing tests are being given to determine a possible high risk for such respiratory diseases as emphysema. The chest X-ray pinpoints chest diseases."

The unit will not be open on Thanksgiving Day. Skin tests are not given on the last day, Dec. 5. After its visit to Albany, the Chestmobile will be going to Berkeley.

Harold (Hal) Denham Named Chamber of Commerce Manager

Harold (Hal) Denham, resident of this area for 42 years and former Albany businessman, will assume the duties as secretary-manager of Albany Chamber of Commerce about Dec. 10, according to President Elmer Coble.

He was the unanimous choice of the Chamber screening committee, which included county, city and Chamber officials, and his selection has been hailed by individual board members as the beginning of a new era for the C of C in Albany.

Hal came to the Bay Area as office and credit manager for Rollin Hosliery Mills. In 1946, he and his wife, Annabelle, opened Denham's Department store next to Del Courtney TV. In 1953, they moved across the street next to the post office in an area now part of Sam's Pharmacy. They were in the department store until 1958 and were assisted by their son, Kayo.

During that period, Hal joined Albany Rotary club (where he has chalked up a record of 21 years of perfect attendance and is past president); a director of Albany Chamber of Commerce; president of Solano Avenue Merchants' association; member of the Albany YMCA board, to which he has belonged 19 years and was twice president; charter member of Albany High 12, where he has been a member 17 years, and was a sparkplug for the Albany Senior Center corporation from start to finish, including serving as president for the final 10 years before the dream of a Senior Center became a reality.

Hal and the late Bill Stahlberg were the only two people involved in the Senior Center group all the time it was organized.

His wife, to whom he has been married 44 years, belonged to Albany Soroptimist club and his son was a Jaycee. Kayo is chief physical therapist at San Jose State and he and his wife are the parents of three children.

In addition, Hal was United Crusade chairman of Albany and currently serves as House Trader for Berkeley Trade club, a branch of Berkeley Chamber of Commerce.

After 1958, Hal was a salesman for Jim Wolfe-Ford in Albany for six years and in the past five years has worked for Doten and later Cunha Pontiac agencies in Berkeley.

He is one of the most in-demand masters of ceremonies for civic parties and is almost always MC for the annual Chamber of Commerce dinner. Albany Rotary club wouldn't dream of having anyone but Hal introduce visiting Rotarians, which he accomplishes in his own inimitable, friendly, humorous manner. At Chamber dinners, he has always been able to introduce everyone present by name, with very few exceptions.

Irene (Mrs. Carl) MacWilliams, who has been serving as office secretary will remain at that post, assuring members and others that someone will be in the office or available by phone during business hours.

"I am very enthusiastic about the opportunity," the new manager said. "I have worked with Elmer Coble for many years and know the board members and business people of Albany well. There is much that can be done in Albany and by working together, we can move mountains."

MORE DOG COMPLAINTS ON CITY COUNCIL AGENDA

Albany City Council was meeting last night at the Times went to press.

According to the agenda, there were three more dog complaints, including a request for a public hearing and asking passage of laws to enforce the control of animals.

Administrative Officer James B. Turner was to give a report on the dog problems. Police Chief Ralph Jensen had submitted a communication answering the complaint of Charles Byars of 764 Pierce.

Elmer Coble, president of Albany Chamber of Commerce, advised Council of the selection of Harold Denham as Chamber manager.

Attorneys for Oakland Scavenger company requested to be heard on the proposed schedule of new charges.

The Grievance committee of the Police and Fire Civil Service club requested to be heard in regard to the position of dispatcher clerk in the Police Department.

Alameda-Contra Costa Transit district requested opinions as to new types of operating systems that may be required to meet the needs of the community.

Bids for the establishment of a Cable TV franchise were to have been opened. Turner was to report on transfer of library operations and an ordinance was prepared for consideration which would transfer administration and operation of the city library to the county system.

Brillhart State Head of High 12

Harold Brillhart, member of Albany High 12, has been elected state president of High 12 clubs.

He was elected to the post at a recent state association convention in Pasadena. He will install new officers of the local group on Jan. 3.

Among those serving with him as state committee chairmen are Sam Dows, Fred Beeson and Joe Lorper.

Athlete of Week

ALBANY BOOSTER CLUB Athlete of the Week for Nov. 4-8 is Rich Flores. Rich was the main reason the Albany High School Freshmen were able to beat the Amador Frosh in the championship game with a score of 14-7. Rich made 17 unassisted tackles and helped on many others. We're proud of you, Rich! —Luoma Photo.

Six Cents Postage For Christmas Cards

It will cost six cents to mail a Christmas card this year whether you seal it or not.

There is no longer any price difference between First Class and single piece third class unsealed mail, except with regard to weight. The penny difference has been eliminated.

First class mail is six cents per ounce, while third class mail is six cents for the first two ounces. However, this year for that extra penny the Post Office will forward Christmas cards or return them as undeliverable if the envelope bears a return address.

Contributions to your Christmas Seal campaign helps the TB and Health Association of Alameda County maintain its breathing machine bank where respiratory disease sufferers who can't afford to rent or own a machine can borrow one.

The choirs will be accompanied by an orchestra, organ and harpsichord—all under the direction of John Burke, organist-choirmaster of the First Congregational church. Burke is also lecturer in church music at the Pacific School of Religion and instructor in church music at the Berkeley Baptist Divinity school.

Soloists for this event will be: Boris Balzo, soprano; Marietta Medlock, alto; Harold Ozsen, tenor; and Autris Palge of Seattle, Wash., bass.

Berkeley YWCA Bazaar Dec. 3

"Believe it or not, it's almost Christmas," warns Mrs. David Stevens, chairman of the Christmas Bazaar to be held at Berkeley Community YWCA, 2134 Allston Way, Tuesday, Dec. 3, from 10:30 a.m. to 4 p.m.

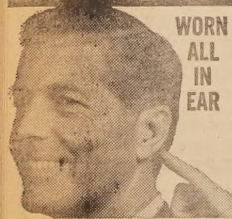

Early Christmas shopping will be a pleasure at this festive bazaar. Mrs. Stevens said, because the tables will be filled with gifts for all age groups. But in addition to toys, children's clothes, aprons, and other attractive novelties, shoppers will find colorfully-wrapped and packaged reads, pies, cakes, and cookies, as well as gift candles, plum puddings, and home-made jams and jellies.

Meeting other holiday needs, advent calendars, wreaths, door hangings and many kinds of decorations and centerpieces will be for sale.

Free child care will make shopping easier for mothers, and to accent the party atmosphere of the bazaar, a delicious luncheon of meats, salads, and home-made cake will be served from 11:30 to 1:30.

Assisting Mrs. Stevens as chairman of the bazaar are Mrs. F. A. Frederickson, Miss Helen Beattie, Mrs. Lester Denny, Mrs. A. L. Now, Mrs. M. T. Fattah, Mrs. Jack Gleason, Mrs. L. W. Burgess, and Miss Alice Grundt. Mrs. H. Compton is responsible for the luncheon. Mrs. S. A. Riesenfeld assisted with publicity.

Richard Coulter, Minister of Music at St. John's Presbyterian church of Berkeley, will be the organist, and Marc Loudon, harpsichordist. The orchestra will be composed of instrumentalists from the participating churches and the university.

This performance will be the highlight of the Rededication Program for the Sanctuary of the First Congregational Church, which has been restored after a disastrous fire a year and a half ago. In this work the Arts and Communications Board of the church was instrumental in rearranging the chancel area so that performances such as this, involving large groups from the community, would have enough space to be used effectively.

This will also mark the first large public hearing of a new "Positiv" organ of six ranks of pipes, made by the noted German organ builder, Paul Ott, of Göttingen, West Germany. This small instrument will be used by the church for the next two years while Mr. Ott is building a large, 63-rank tracker-action organ for the Sanctuary, which will be the first large organ by this famous builder to be supplied to America.

Red Cross Tapes Holiday Messages

Wish your serviceman a Merry Christmas—in your own voice! From now till Dec. 20 servicemen's families may come to the Berkeley chapter, American Red Cross, or to any H. C. Capwell Co. store in the Bay Area, to make a free taped recording of their Christmas greetings to their man or woman in the Armed Forces overseas or in any military hospital.

Family members, including the children, are invited to come in either individually or in groups to talk (or perhaps sing) their messages while a tape recorder in the background unobtrusively records their words on a seven-inch tape provided by the Red Cross. Tapes are given to the families in plastic containers ready to be mailed overseas.

Servicemen can listen to their "Voices from Home" tapes at Red Cross recreation centers in the camps or hospitals where they are stationed, and may use the same tapes to send back messages in reply.

Red Cross volunteers or Capwell's staff will assist families in making recordings if requested, or the messages may be taped in private.

"A 'Voice from Home' tape is one of the biggest morale boosters you can send your serviceman," says Robert Eaneman, Red Cross Service to Military Families chairman.

Bright Cotton Scraps Needed

Do you have scraps of bright cotton material tucked away in the back of your sewing drawer? These are on the "wanted" list right now at the Berkeley chapter, American Red Cross, 2116 Allston Way, according to Mrs. Ethel Bryant, Production chairman. The pieces are needed to line seuffs being made for hospitalized servicemen.

Volunteers in the Red Cross Production Room are filling quotas of 100 pairs of slippers per month for men at the 6th Convalescent Center at Cam Ranh Bay, Vietnam, and 50 pairs monthly requested for patients at the Naval hospital in Oakland. Soles and uppers for the slippers are made from discarded airplane seat covers donated by United Air Lines, but light weight cotton suitable for linings is presently in short supply.

"The hospital director at Cam Ranh Bay writes us that the men like to wear their seuffs turned inside out to show off the gay linings," Mrs. Bryant says. "So please bring in your left over cotton pieces—the gayer the better."

TROOP 19 ENJOYS BLOODHOUND TRACKING

Ed Bent, Berkeley, was the first Scout "found" by Clancy, one of the Mel Tracking Bloodhounds, on troop 19's recent "Lost" campout.

Starting out just ahead of the rest of the troop over the rugged hills behind Inverness, Ed intentionally "lost" himself about half way to the campsite. Thirty minutes after Ed's start, Clancy was given Ed's scent. Then, in harness with his trainer, Don Colbert, Clancy took to the trail and followed and found Ed.

Greg Bachman, Albany, was the "lost" Scout on the second portion of the trek to the campsite. Again, the rest of the troop followed closely behind. Starting well after the troop, Colbert and a second bloodhound, Hez, successfully followed Greg and found him in the dense brush just prior to arriving at the campsite.

Colbert's 13-year and 300-search mission experience was distilled in a pre-hike presentation of valuable woodlore to prevent being lost. Direct observation of an experienced and trained search team in actual operation was fascinating. Particularly astounding to the troop was each dog's ability to distinguish the single scent of the "lost" Scout from the 20 other scents also on the trail ahead of him.

Troop 19 is most appreciative of the realistic experience provided them by the foundation. The Charles Mel Search and Rescue foundation has the purpose of furnishing assistance in the search for lost persons in the rural or mountain areas of California. The services of Colbert, his highly trained bloodhounds with their keen sense of smell, and the specially equipped search truck are available 24 hours a day, free of charge, to any California sheriff or other authorized county, state, or federal agency needing aid in locating lost persons.

The Times:
ough I seldom write let-newspapers, I feel im-
this time to write what a "two plus two equals

I read again in your
the usual comments
ing surprise that the ALbany Bay Committee is urging Albany to hire a qualified waterfront planner, while at the same time ABC is trying to stop the present Albany Bay fill.

Why this should be so incomprehensible to so many people is beyond me. To do a good job in any field, there must be detailed and careful planning before, not after action. Before building a home, a blueprint is needed; before making a dress,
a pattern is needed; before baking a cake, a recipe is needed;
before writing a story, an outline is needed. This is as simple and basic as two plus two equals four.

Is it so difficult then to understand why the Albany Bay Committee is simultaneously urging both the appointment of a waterfront planner and the stopping of the present, haphazard filling?

Editor, the Times:
I would like to reply to the good citizens whose letter was published in the Albany Times on November 13, 1968, regarding a leash law and complaining that there were a number of children
bitten by dogs lately.

I have a rather large German Shepherd who was in her own back yard, which is enclosed by a six foot wooden fence when 3 children decided to poke their fingers through the fence at her and call to her and generally harass and tease her. Twice I ran them away from the fence and the third time I went out and caught them. I took each child home and explained to his mother what he was doing and the fact that if the dog had wanted to bad enough she probably could have cleared the fence and been loose. Disregarding that, she certainly could have bitten

one of the children's fingers.
The first mother's reaction was,
"Well, is it a wire fence?" Suggesting almost that had it been it would have been alright to poke at the dog. The second mother was not home and her child said no one was supposed to be taking care of her or watching out for her, and in fact, there was no one at her house. The third child's mother reminded the child that his finger still had not healed where he had been bitten previously and that she had told him not to do that sort of thing. Two of the children had dogs of their own and I certainly should think that they would have been taught not to tease.

Fortunately, there was no tragedy involved in this, however, if one of the children had been bitten it would have been my dog that would be impounded for observation for 10 days at my cost and I certainly would have been thought to be responsible for the medical bills for the child, all because my dog protected her property, and when a dog is in it's own back yard the owner shouldn't have to protect it from strangers or intruders.

Now, when you consider the cause of dog bites, rarely do you find a dog just walking down the street biting children. Nine times out of 10 they are minding their own business and will skitter away when shushed at. However, when the dogs are kicked or teased or pulled on by children their only defense is to bite.
They have no other way of telling you to stop; they are being hurt.

So I do sympathize with those of you who want a leash law, my front lawn isn't always litter free either, however, at the same time you leash my dog, what are you going to do about the children who provoke dogs to bite?

Editor, the Times:
A student government aiding existed) has proven its value

over the years, both to the par-

However, it would seem that

About Your

Traffic, Safety Commission

The purpose of the Traffic and Safety Commission, composed of seven appointed members, including the Chief of Police and the City Engineer are:

1. To develop between all branches of our City and school governments interested in traffic and safety, and the general public, a united and harmonious effort to secure for every resident of the city the best traffic and safety regulations available in furthering the preservation of life and property in the city.

2. To recommend to the legislative body of this city and to other city officials, ways and means for improving traffic and safety conditions, and the administration and enforcement of traffic and safety regulations.

3. To suggest the most practicable means for coordinating the activities of all officers and agencies of this city having authority with respect to the administration and enforcement of traffic and safety regulations.

adults who have deified Dr.
Spock have gone one step further.
In many schools student organizations are now considered part of the administration, which means that they can set their own regulations, demand curricular changes, invite anarchists onto the campus as guest lecturers,
etc.

As night follows day, this naturally has produced a state of complete chaos in many schools and colleges. Discipline and a sense of right and wrong, once considered a vital part of any curriculum, have been abandoned for mob rule, at the expense of the entire educational process.

Undoubtedly, there is an international conspiracy to disrupt all schools in the free nations.
Rounding up the leaders of this movement is a concern of the FBI. But enforcing school regulations is the duty of the administrators, and student participation in such administration must be terminated, at once. Good salaries for good administrators
would be an excellent investment
for the future of America.

(Ordinance 60-010, City Council, City of Albany, June 15, 1960)

All three sections defined above are of vital concern to all Albany officials and residents.
Some interests of this Commission for the welfare and safety of Albany citizens are: Better lighting (streets and parks);
School Traffic Patrol (protection of school children); Traffic flow improvements (stop signs, yield signs); traffic view obstructions (high hedges, shrubs, trees); pedestrian safety (cross walks);
etc. Sponsorship of a Safety Essay Contest (in-conjunction with Fire Prevention Week) in our public schools to aware children of safety has been undertaken.

Criticism is only warranted
when you have presented your traffic and safety problems to the Commission and no action is taken. To make this an active and progressive commission, alert to the needs of the community, we invite suggestions from the public. In this way, we intend to effectively work for the maximum preservation of life, and property in Albany.

Our meetings, held the third Thursday of each month at 7:30 p.m. at City Hall, City of Albany, are open to the public. Kindly make all traffic and safety suggestions in writing.
Marty Webb is chairman of the Traffic and Safety Commission.

Income Has Risen Four Times Faster Than Food Costs

Bay Area grocery operators are taking another step in their program to tell consumers that food is still the best buy in the nation.

Supermarket signs provided by the Linen Supply Association of America indicate that "Every-day's Bargain Day At Your Food Store." Substantiating this claim, local grocery executives cite figures published by the National Association of Retail Grocers. These figures show that food cost as a percentage of family income available for spending is now 17.7 per cent, the lowest since records were kept. In a joint statement, Joseph Azzopardi, president and Stanley F. Johnson, executive manager, Bay Area Grocers Association, said that the portion of take home pay needed to feed the family continues to go down and personal income has risen four times faster than food prices in the last 10 years.

"Several factors are involved in so-called higher food prices," said Azzopardi. "One of them is the fact that one-fifth of the items purchased at the supermarket are in the non-food category. Another factor is the increased tendency, as a result of higher take-home pay, to purchase more costly food items—finer cuts of meat, gourmet items and convenience foods."

Referring to convenience foods, Johnson said that they are among the best buys in the market. "They cost more than foods requiring more preparation—but in deciding whether to spend 13 cents more for an item and save 1 1/2 hours in the kitchen, most women prefer to spend the additional amount." Johnson said that the industry estimates that it costs nine cents more per hour to use convenience foods.

Azzopardi said grocers will continue to give their customers a wide choice of foods and non-foods, a choice not available to women in any other country of the world, and leave it to the individual family decision what the grocery budget will be.

HONORED BY RED CROSS

Before a colorful backdrop of Red Cross posters dating back to World War I days, service award pins were presented to 38 Red Cross volunteers and two staff members at the Berkeley chapter's annual recognition tea.

Ten women's groups received Certificates of Appreciation for their assistance in Red Cross programs.

Honored for the longest terms of service were Mrs. Raymond Fuller and Miss Marie Ward, each of whom received 35-year pins from George Conner, chapter chairman.

Mrs. Fuller is one of the six women who originally organized the Red Cross Braille Division in 1929 and the book bindery in 1936. She and her late husband were recipients of a bronze plaque for their outstanding services to the East Bay Blind Center, and Mrs. Fuller has transcribed many books for the State and Congressional Libraries.

Miss Ward, a blind member of the Red Cross staff, does the invaluable work of proof reading with her fingers the brailled material transcribed by sighted volunteers.

Twenty-five year pins went to Miss Tommy Angell, a San Francisco attorney, for volunteer service as a First Aid and Water Safety Instructor, and to Mrs. Eleanor Henkle, a Brailist.

Berkeley Police Sergeant Philip S. Mower received a 20-year pin for his service in training first aid instructors and teaching water safety. Also receiving this honor were Mr. Lance Flanagan, a Water Safety Instructor, Mrs. J. H. Winegardner and Mrs. Harold Edelstein of the Braille division.

Fifteen-year pins went to Mrs. Ruth Graham, Melvin R. Kingley and Mrs. Audrey Whitman, Albany Pool Director.

Captain Raul Miranda of the Albany Fire Department was one of the six volunteers to receive a 10-year pin. He heads the Red Cross Mobile First Aid Unit operators, and is a member of the Safety Programs committee. Others receiving the 10-year award were: Misses Barbara Blosser, Vesta Bunnell, Walter C. Leigh, Mrs. Maude Wagener and Mrs. Victor Sprague.

Twenty-three volunteers were awarded five-year pins.

George H. Schmidt Named To East Bay PG&E Post

George H. Schmidt

Appointment of George H. Schmidt as supervisor of commercial, industrial and agricultural sales in Pacific Gas and Electric Company's East Bay Division was announced by Division Manager Walter D. Skinner.

Schmidt, 38, leaves the position of sales supervisor for the division's Bay District, with headquarters in Richmond. He has held this post since November, 1967.

He succeeds Harold S. (Hal) Newins, now PG&E's director of industrial sales, in the division position. Schmidt will supervise all gas and electric sales activity except residential sales in Alameda and Contra Costa counties. Born in North Dakota and reared in Oregon, Schmidt joined PG&E in 1957 after graduation from Oregon State University as an electrical engineer. He previously had served in the Air Force as a radar mechanic for nearly four years.

Schmidt is a member of the Council of Richmond Industries, the Richmond Chamber of Commerce, the El Cerrito Rotary club. He is United Bay Area Crusade commercial division chairman for West Contra Costa county.

Prior to his Bay District sales appointment, he served for two years as manager of PG&E's office in South San Francisco. The Bay District includes East Bay shoreline communities from Berkeley through Port Costa.

Schmidt and his wife Pat and three sons and three daughters live in Richmond.

GIRLS' TOWN OF ITALY GALA SHOW DEC. 3

Fashions from spring collections of 10 internationally noted designers will be flown to San Francisco for exclusive showing Tuesday, Dec. 3, at a Fairmont Hotel luncheon to benefit Girls' Town of Italy.

None of the 50 pieces to be modeled in the noon show in the Fairmont's grand ballroom has been shown previously outside of New York, according to fashion authority Irene Sargent, who,

with Curtis Stewart, is coordinating the event for the Girls' Town of Italy committee of Northern California.

Designers providing pieces include: Pauline Trigere, Geoffrey Beene, Chester Weinberg, Richard Tam, Malcolm Starr, Michael Novarese, Adele Simpson and the houses of Marquis, Cleopatra and Adolpho.

The Weinberg collection has been described by Women's Wear

Daily as the most spectacular in New York, while the House of Marquis is a favorite of First Lady Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

The fashion gala will also feature designer fur pieces. Exotic and unusual furs for both men and women will be shown by Curtis Stewart, one of the West Coast's few fur designers.

Mrs. Robert B. Johnson of Oakland, founder-chairman of the Girls' Town of Italy committee, is in charge of the charity benefit which has been held annually since 1963. She is being assisted by a large committee of 50 women from both sides of the Bay.

Present at the show to extend greetings from the children to the thousand expected guests will be the Rt. Reverend Monsignor John Patrick Carroll, Abbot of Rome, founder-president of Boys' Towns of Italy, the American overseas charity of which Girls' Town is a part.

Thanksgiving Eve Services Announced

A Thanksgiving Eve worship service will be held at Albany United Methodist Church, at 7:45 p.m., Wednesday, Nov. 27. The service is open to everyone who wishes to attend.

There will be special music from the Children's Choir. The pastor, the Rev. Ronald A. Grelich, has chosen as his topic, "Giving Thanks." The message seeks to develop the theme that an attitude of thankfulness is essential to one's total wellbeing in all areas of life.

The Rev. David Hassel, District Superintendent of the Albany Methodist Church, will be guest speaker at the Albany United Methodist Church Sunday, Dec. 1. Rev. Hassel has served Methodist Church all the way from Washington State to Southern California and has been superintendent of several districts. He will bring a message that will strengthen all who participate.

Auto Club Offers Holiday Tips

National Automobile Club urges motorists to make this Thanksgiving one to be thankful for. Those motorists who may be traveling the city streets and freeways on their way home from the holiday dinner can ease the strain and danger of night time driving by heeding these four life-saving hints:

1. Avoid looking directly into light of oncoming cars. Instead, watch the right hand edge of the road.

2. Keep your windshield clean. Dirt reflects light, causing dangerous glare.

3. Wear sunglasses in bright sunlight, but remove them at night. Eyes adjust to darkness much faster if they have not been exposed to the sun.

4. Finally, dim dashboard lights, allowing just enough light to read the indicators.

Residents Receive Christmas Seals

Christmas Seals are in the mail—41,927 Albany-Berkeley families have their Christmas Seal packets, according to Mrs. Harold Olson, 1968 Christmas Seal chairman for Albany.

This year, according to Mrs. Olson, the TB and Health Association of Alameda County has added the fight against air pollution to its long struggle against TB, emphysema and other respiratory diseases. "They are perhaps more related than we think," she added, "certain evidence seems to point to the fact that, as the air we breathe becomes polluted over our congested urban centers, deaths due to emphysema rise. A portion of Christmas Seal funds will go, this year, to fight air pollution through public education, research, and direct action."

Also supported by Christmas Seals is the Chestmobile, on which 25,000 tests were given county-wide during the past year. TB and emphysema are fought through education, medical research and rehabilitation. The local Christmas Seal agency maintains a breathing machine bank, conducts respiratory disease seminars and gives grants to doctors and nurses for advanced study in chest diseases.

Major O'Hara Speakers for SIRS

Major O'Hara

East Bay branch, Sons In Retirement, holds its monthly luncheon meeting at Spenger's Grotto Nov. 27, at 12 noon. The speaker is Major Thomas C. O'Hara, a Military Police officer, United States Army.
A native of Spokane, Wash., Major O'Hara holds Bachelor of Science and Master of Arts degrees from Washington State University, where he received his Army commission through the ROTC in 1959.
Major O'Hara returned in July from a year of duty in Vietnam. During his service there, he was assigned as Provost Marshal at Bien Hoa and Assistant Operations Officer for the 18th Military Police Brigade at Long Binh. His talk, based on his experiences and observations of a wide range of Army activities in Vietnam will go behind newspaper headlines and TV reports for a first hand report from a combat soldier.
Statistics seem to indicate that the alarming rise of emphysema, as a dangerous killer (deaths from emphysema and chronic bronchitis have approximately doubled every five years since 1950), has a direct connection with the rapid rise in air pollution over our congested urban centers. Your Christmas Seal dollars which fight TB, also help fight emphysema and air pollution.

Highly Successful Party For Dr. Florence Harris

Two hundred thirty former students, relatives and friends of Dr. Florence Harris met together on Saturday, Nov. 16, at Spenger's for dinner and an evening of fun, and fun it was.

They turned the clock back and were once again back in dear old Columbus school, Berkeley, with songs, memories, and funny stories told one on the other, by those in attendance.

The room was beautifully decorated by Margaret Copeland Jacobson, assisted by Hazel Lindstrom Howell and Ethel Lauderbach Murphy.

An excellent job as master of ceremonies was done by Alvin DeMello, chairman of the dinner committee, whose experience as past president of the West Berkeley Lions club stood him in good stead.

Mrs. Frances Ramos Hagan took care of the reservations, assisted by her daughter, Elaine Hagan Huison, and Mr. and Mrs.

Grover Rosentreter, Jr., all former pupils of Dr. Florence Harris, in whose honor the dinner was held, this being the golden anniversary of her teaching career at Columbus.

Also in attendance were members of Dr. Harris' family: her sister, Clara Gray of Albany; her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Ingraham of Lake Almanor; and her grandchildren, Linda, Laura and Brian Ingraham and David Holmes, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Vera Greenfield of Berkeley.

Also among the honored guests were two former co-teachers at Columbus school, Miss Elizabeth Cloudman and Mrs. Erma Ebernathy Brown, and former Assemblyman and Mrs. Ryon Rumford. Former students traveled to Berkeley for the reunion from all over Northern California. One flew down from Oregon. Telegrams were read from Madrid, Spain, sent by her pupil now

Albany Serviceman Caught in Bee Invasion

LONG BINH, Vietnam—When it gets right down to the birds and the bees, personnel of the Motor Pool Section of Company A would definitely rather discuss the former.

This decision comes as a result of a recent nocturnal invasion of the maintenance building by thousands of bees. Most of the men were able to evacuate, but two, SSG Luther Miller, Jr.,

Sullivans Honored On 50th Anniversary

A party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Russell S. Sullivan of Oakland, formerly of Albany, on their 50th anniversary was held Nov. 17 at the home of their daughter in Albany.

An interesting sidelight is that among the guests were the original matron of honor, Frances Snow Winsor, and the bride's brother, Mark Brownlee, who was their best man.

Children of the couple presented them with a "family tree," which was a live bonsai holding pictures of their five children, 10 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. At the lower part of the tree was the Sullivans' picture when they were first married.

Russell Sullivan worked in the copper smelter at Kennett (now submerged by Shasta dam) and that was where he met and married the former Ora Brownlee. After their marriage, they moved to Oakland, where he worked for Pabco Paint Co., until he retired after 37 years. He now enjoys gardening and watching baseball. His wife was active in PTA and now is active in artists' groups and works with textiles.

Their five children include Verna Jackson of Pleasant Hill, Bill Sullivan of Auburn, Esther Galbraith of Concord, Helen Korpi of Albany and Russell Sullivan of Oakland.

A beautiful gold, diamond-studded wrist watch was presented the honoree by DeMello.

It was a never to be forgotten evening of fun for all.

of Harrisburg, Pa., and SP4 Jeffrey Steele of Albany, Calif., were trapped on a second floor office. With folded training manuals and raw courage, the two fought off the attackers, slaying hundreds and suffering only minor wounds themselves. However, a tactical retreat was soon considered in order, as the bees began clustering beneath a rafter at the far end of the shop, obviously mapping plans for an all-out assault. Total victory came for the good guys the following morning, when engineers from the nation team arrived with insecticide to give all the ers a cold shower.

IN CASE OF ERROR—LOWEST CONSUMER PRICE WILL PREVAIL

People ignore us on Thanksgiving

It just isn't our big day. So we close. But after the turkey's all gone and housewives are good and tired of spending hours in the kitchen, they come back to us. Because it's easy to pick up Colonel Sanders' "finger lickin' good" chicken and take it home. Folks are thankful for that. (And so are we.)

We fix Sunday dinner seven days a week.
